

Hillocks Primary School September Newsletter

Welcome back, we hope you all had a lovely Summer. The children are looking smart in their uniforms and we are so pleased to see everyone wearing sensible shoes. Thank you for your co-operation with this.

We have lots of exciting things planned for this half term. On Monday, staff will be trained on delivering the Read Write Inc programme which we hope will lead to children becoming much better at reading and writing. Also next week, our new patron of reading, Gareth Baker will be coming into work with the KS2 children to help them find exciting books to read. All classes have started exciting new topics—you can find out about these at the welcome Meetings next week (details below).
